If You Should Leave

Spiritual Beggars

Baby, will you hold my hand, my head is haunted
I feel that the worst is to come, oh baby, warm me
Maybe if you hold me tight, I will be alright
I feel that my life is running out, oh baby, love meGone insane
I remember how it all went awayAnd if you should leave me here alone now
I will open the door to the end
So I won't be left againHeal me, will you heal my wounds, I need your love, babe
Even if you don't know me, yet, believe I love you
Guide me, will you lead me through the hungry forest?
I know if we pull it through, love will bloomGone insane
I remember how it all went awayAnd if you should leave me here alone now
I will open the door to the end
So I won't be left againBaby, will you hold my hand, my head is haunted
I feel that the worst is to come, oh baby, warm me
Maybe if you hold me tight, I will be alright
I feel that my life is running out, oh baby, love meGone insane
I remember how it all went awayAnd if you should leave me here alone now
I will open the door to the end
So I won't be left again
