

Feels Like Home

Newton Faulkner

I know its gonna take some time
For you to feel that its alright
I'm not making people choose a side
But I don't mind You trying to get some people on yours
I know that it takes some time
But I must try
I just want you to understand When things don't feel right
And you know deep inside
It breaks your heart
But you must get out And I know you're gonna be alright
And I hope you find your way and I hope your future's bright
But I am the way this feels inside
But all I wanna do is make it through to the other side No, I don't wanna know why
You just can't let this go
But I must try
I just want you to understand That it feels like home
That it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
I know I broke out And it feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
I know I broke out, yeah And I owe it all
To this fall
Yes, I owe it all
To this fall
And I just want you to understand That it feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
I know I broke out And it feels like home
And it knocks me out
Just to feel this way
I know I broke out
I broke out
