

Owl and Wolf

The SIGIT

We don't need to speak our names and our things that float in between Let me haze over by your side under your wings as king and queen We dance the shadow of these lonely pines and tonight we follow the rhythm of this lonely wolf We sing a song of our midnight glamour Our eyes illuminate in high and low I set the fire on the black holes gate to keep us holding on until day light breaks We are the stealer of the stars tonight as silently we sing the echoes of this crying wolf
Under the crescent shades
We hide, dance and sing, and widely awake Rovers of the mountain forgotten away We hold the lights of these silent nights time goes by for these owl and wolf

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>