

Empire State

The Idyllists

    Been the crawl of a mountain
    Been a link in a chain
    I've been scolded for stealing
I've been told to behaveI've been reading the forecast
    Something's coming this way
    But it's taking forever
I'm too tired to maintain that I'm slowBeen a scratch on the surface
    I've been a clog in the drain
    I've been melodramatic
I've been sleeping for daysI've been one in a million
    I've been a million to one
    This is taking forever
It always seems to return that I'm slowAll hands up, salute the Empire State
    Faith be true, you know the way
    Ten feet tall in this, an empty space
Fallen walls all around destroyed again, destroyed againBeen digging to China
    I've been a fish in the sea
    I've been talking to Jesus
He's not talking to meI've been reading the forecast
    Something's coming this way
    But it's taking forever
I'm too tired to maintain that I'm slowAll hands up, salute the Empire State
    Faith is true, she knows the way
    Ten miles tall in this, an empty space
Fallen walls all around we'll build again, rebuild againBeen the crawl of a mountain
    Been a link in a chain
    Been scolded for stealing
    I've been carted away
