

Mire

Cindergarden

Quiet now he's buried upside down
I'm lying awake on lines he didn't take away
Holding me just a memory fading into black
Deadly nightshade never looking backCrawling though the mire
I'm calling one more timeSay you'll wait
That I long to hear
Till I finally wander in the clearCrawling though the mire
I'm calling one more timeHeaven sent me for your last breathQuiet now he's burning upside down
In the walls we make in the ways we fake display
Fantasy now just a fallacy as you burned inside
Crossed your heart until it diedCrawling though the mire
I'm calling one more time
