

It'll All End in Tears

Andrea Faustini

It'll all end in tears.
But I don't know it.
If I could start again.
Get out of reverse.
We're all in a wasteland.
Sinking in quicksand.
Losing my way.
Weaker each day, missing that something.
And I don't know, where I've gone wrong.
And I don't know, where I'm coming from.
All that I know, is I gotta keep moving.
So come back to me and make me feel whole, need my missing piece.
Cause I feel so alone.
If I just stand still, I can keep on moving.
There's a place in my dreams.
But I don't know where.
I'm hoping to get there, cause it's all I see.
We're all in a wasteland.
Sinking in quicksand.
Losing my way.
Weaker each day, missing that something.
And I don't know, where I've gone wrong. And I don't know, where I'm coming from.
All that I know, is I gotta keep moving.
So come back to me and make me feel whole, need my missing piece.
Cause I feel so alone.
If I just stand still, I can keep on moving.
We're all in a wasteland.
Sinking in quicksand.
Losing my way.
Weaker each day, missing that something.
And I don't know, where I've gone wrong.
And I don't know, where I'm coming from.
All that I know, is I gotta keep moving.
So come back to me and make me feel whole, need my missing piece.
Cause I feel so alone.
If I just stand still, I can keep on moving.
It'll all end in tears.
