Revelation

Ian Moore

Pretty mamma break me from these chains
You told me that I was your only man
Wrapped me up in all these guises of grace
Now I've seen it face to faceRevelation
Revelation
Revelation
Revelation
I've got a line on youSilent charade you're a master of thought
Indiscretion mounting as you gather your loss
Undercover darkness was your veil
Words were stolen, love for saleRevelation
Revelation
Revelation
RevelationI've been listenin' to what you're saying baby
But what your sayin' I know it ain't true
I've been playing what your playing
But baby I played youWhen you're lying all the time
Don't you know it makes it hard to see the truth
And you were blind to the fact
That a man can be just as evil as youNow the tide is turning
And mamma you wonder where you stand
I got a wild card in my deck, little baby
Guess that gives me the upper handI ain't gonna fall in line like all those other fools
I had a revelation, baby and I got a line on you
