Starin' At the Sky

Poco

I can remember when I used to see you passin' by
And it seemed in vain when it never changed
'Cause the only thing we said was, 'Hi'But then out of nowhere
We got together 'cause we didn't try
But then just as fast as it came to pass
I was alone again starin' at the skyI've come to discover you've got to think it out on your own
And it takes some time for the words to rhyme
To really feel what you've always knownAnd when you break through
You might even feel as though you can fly
But when it all comes down I hope I'm around
And not alone again starin' at the skyWonderin' whyI can't let go 'cause I
I think you really know your mind
If you could show me a sign
And keep me from goin' blindAnd when you break through
You might even feel as though you can fly
But when it all comes down I hope I'm around
And not alone again starin' at the skyWaving bye byeI can't let go 'cause I
I think you really know your mind
If you could show me a sign
And keep me from goin' blind
