Silver Road

Janne Poikolainen

I'll be way down a silver road, I'll go
Where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let upHave you been thinking that you were all alone
But I still thought of you
Word every once in a while forgetting that
Some of it could be true
Held in the beam of a light I thought we shared
Shone between two shores
And wants to be traveled like the gravel that
Runs from my door to yoursI'll be way down the silver road, I'll go
Where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let upWay down a silver road, I'll go
Where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let upDa da da
Held in the beam of a light I thought we shared
Shone between two shores
And wants to be traveled like the gravel that
Runs from my door to yoursI'll be way down a silver road, I'll go
Where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slow
I don't want it to let upWay down a silver road, I'll go
Where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let up
