Safe Haven

32 Leaves

There's something strange here
The voice inside my mind said, "Run away from here"
"Go find yourself safe haven where things might make sense"
I'm not your oversight
Someday awaken, I thought you vanished in the night
So before you run forever, save that shame for me
Won't you save that shame for me?
There's something strange here, I'm running out of time
So help me breathe again, before I push my love aside
Some die awaiting, I'm not your oversight
Soon you'll awaken to find I vanished in the night
So before you run forever, save that shame...

Stay, don't leave me alone
You were all I'd ever known
Won't you stay? Don't leave me alone
You were all I'd ever known
Hellbent on finding them
Swim the ocean of our wake
Hellbent on finding whatever helps you pass the time away
Because Hell feels like falling forever
I beg this of you
Here is the silent suffering
Lie surrounding me like a swarm
Recite the words that saved me once before
