

Tradition

Collective Soul

It's so subtle, in you and this
It always come back in time
That's when tradition starts
With gleam in our eye
So from where we are now
To where we want to begin
Let's gather up that innocence
And start it again
Let's go down to the river
Let's go back to the sea
Let's go swim in the ocean
Just you and me
All these causes we possess
And emotions we owe
You're just a, you're just a constant reminder of each other we chose
So when we falling out
A new subject to learn
That's when tradition starts
And love returns
Let's go down to the river
Let's go back to the sea
Let's go swim in the ocean
Just you and me
When conversation fails
And we're left here all alone
Let's refer back to basics
That were there all along
Whether Sunday morning drive
Or a late-night hang
It's always, always, always you and me babe
Let's go down to the river
Let's go back to the sea
Let's go swim in the ocean
Just you and me
Let's go down to the river
Let's go back to the sea
Let's go swim in the ocean
Just you and me
Let's go back
Let's go back, just you and me
Let's go back
Let's go back, just you and me

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>