Break Bread

Asher Roth

Should we break our bread? Should we break our bread, we should break bread
We should break our bread, should we break our bread, we should break our bread
Where shall I begin? Let's chop it a little bit about these people called friends
The ones you can lean on and your life depends
... that all depends,. it's quite a few different breed to tell
But the right ones, the great great...
And those ones are so sincere to see you get it and like some
Who hate to see that talented do with it
Mad, cause they thought... like a fat boy neck in a barber chair with a shape up
And Beijing with a Cesar such a back stabber... shit on you, like chicks in a...
I know it sounds fucked up, but that's how life goes
Never know in who to trust but this what life blows
So just take it as you go
We should break our bread, should we break your bread? We should break bread
We should break our bread, should break our bread, we should break bread

I look around like I don't know these motherfuckers
It's just because I got a couple blocks...
And they wanna hang around eat some lunch, have some fun, smoking blunts, getting drunk
Guess I'm just another sucker, huh
All of a sudden bubble bursts they wanna fuck
I'm coming quickly... one of them is getting lucky
Cause chill out my sun this should take it off from me
Leaving... little alimony
When all you homies wanna do is hit the club
Hopping bottles, living up, but you're paying for the...
... they seem like they're so nice, they're the ones who pray on you
And wait till you're just right
But Goldy Locks got this line of super fox
I can see it different top like I'm lying up a cop so hold up
Stop everything feel as we never been, no, hell no, we can't break your bread
We should break our bread, should we break your bread? We should break bread
We should break our bread, should break our bread, we should break bread
We should break our bread, should we break your bread? We should break bread
We should break our bread, should break our bread, we should break bread.
