Shaping the End

Nasum

End all that is useless, you must be all that has won
Reach out for the fire in your eyes, glowing deep insideFor I have seen all that will come
Darkness, tasteless future, shades so grey - clouding my mind
So what? It's not as beautiful as we give it credit for
Might aswell give in for the desire to end your life...See us as we're drowning, never offer us your hand
Only leave us helpless, crawling, while you are shaping the endFor I have seen all that will come
Darkness, tasteless future, shades so grey - clouding my mind
So what? It's not as beautiful as we give it credit for Might aswell give in for the desire to end your life...
