

Cold Game

Maverick Sabre

seems like everybodys carrying now money is the motivation stone cold no reflection what am i supposed to be but this on the bus oh dark facing never smile always hide emotion cause even my bestfriends could be the next men that change darlin'
darlin' its a cold game and it was like we were living in
got away so i could change
i dont want to live this way but sometimes its like theres no other way my knuckles bleeding once again but i had to hold my place no respect no intention i didnt mean to cause you pain it all happened so suddenly a paranoia saved my back again told you id be alright though here to stand another day darlin'
darlin' its a cold game
but sometimes its like theres no other way face in the stars baby they all seem so bright tonight please dont be angry, but it went too far this time i thought he was punching lightly, but the blood told different thing cause everything is going up my head, my lungs
