

Stupid Liar

Freya

Stupid liar Please come over and entertain me Because I'm feeling a little bored Just come over and pretend to love me
You did that once and you promised more - you promised me more ...And I know that you're a stupid liar
I know you're just using me
and I know that you'll never love me
I know that you're sick of me
But I know - but I know that I'll pretend not to know as long as you pretend to love me Say those words that will satisfy me Say them twice, and I just soon might believe And do those things that will pacify me
Try them again, and I'll never leave - I'll never leave ...'Cause I know that you're a stupid liar
I know you're just using me
and I know that you'll never love me
I know that you're sick of me
But I know - but I know
that I'll pretend not to know as long as you pretend to love me And I know that you're a stupid liar
I know you're just using me
and I know that you'll never love me
I know that you're sick of me
But I know - but I know
that I'll pretend not to know as long as you pretend, as long you pretend, as long as you pretend to love me
