

Various Methods Of Escape

Nine Inch Nails

hallucinate in high fidelity the pieces of a plan construction of the highest quality the blood from my own hand a line of lyric looping in my head nobody listening it doesn't really matter any more yes, it doesn't mean a thing i've gotta let go i've gotta get straight why'd you have to leave it so high?
let me get away an effigy, so wondrous to behold a statement so profound a place to bury everything i did and burn it to the ground the fire illuminates the final scene the past repeats itself i cannot tell the difference anymore i cannot trust my self i've gotta let go
i've gotta get straight
why'd you have to leave it so high?
let me get away
i've gotta let go
i've gotta get straight
why'd you have to leave it so high?
let me get away i think i could lose myself in here i think i could lose myself in here
i think i could lose myself in here i've gotta let go
i've gotta get straight
why'd you have to leave it so high?
let me get away
got to let it go find another way why'd you have to make it so hard?
let me get away
