

Who I Am

Richie Sambora

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Only child, lonely one, trying to act like his father's son
Make him proud though he sometimes fails, locked up, living in a jail
Help me now, help me now, god, I feel misunderstood
Trust me now, trust me now, who I am is good Who I used to be ain't what I am, if you walked
Inside my shoes, then you would understand who I am
You wonder, who I am, I wonder, who I am, just who I am When I lost is what I learned, when the road took a crooked turn
Wore the face of I just don't care, that piece of me just disappeared
Help me now, help me now, find some hope inside myself
Reaching down, finding out who's hiding in this shell Who I used to be ain't what I am, if you walked
Inside my shoes, then you would understand who I am
I wonder, who I am, I wonder, who I am, who I am Somehow I got to find a mirror to make the stranger clearer
All I wanna be is who I am, reaching down, finding out
I still feel misunderstood, trust me now, trust me now
Who I am is good Who I used to be ain't what I am, if you walked
Inside my shoes, then you would understand who I am
You wonder, who I am, I wonder, who I am
It's who I am, who I am, who I am, who I am

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>