In Your Car

1997

Does she kiss you like I did?
Do your hearts beat in unison?
The chords are ringing out
My fingertips are like pouring rain
Upon the rooftopBecause inside this house, there's nothing left, nothing left to say
This won't break me because I'm not the drugs
I am not the pain you feel inside, when you're lying there awake
It's just the absence of blood in your veinsDrown the pain of this one
To the sound of my guitar
This song becomes our anthem
As we sing it in your carI'm an itch beneath your skin
That alcohol that you have been drowning in
Well, it aches for a century
The one who wastes your year
The fool that you call loveDrown the pain of this one
To the sound of my guitar
This song becomes our anthem
As we sing it in your carThe radio's on tonight
So sing it if you're still alive
You're still alive
You bare it all, you bare it allDrown the pain of this one
To the sound of my guitar
This song becomes our anthem
As we sing it in your car
As we sing it in your car
