I Give To You

Nitzer Ebb

Always told to take more care
But touch that skin and you'd be there
A voice so clear but far away
Picking up on every word I say
To tell the truth I can't even lie
No politician or a secret spyI give to you
I give to youNo one else can make me
You pick me up and take me
You got it, you got itMy soul, it lies
My heart, it tries
My mind is spentMy love, you can take it all
At your beck and call
I will give to you
I will give to you
I will give to youI get up out of bed
I'm not alone, but nothing's said
I leave the room and go outside
Sunlight splash with every stride
To tell the truth I don't even try
A life in knots that I don't untieMy soul, it lies
My heart, it tries
My mind is spentMy love, you can take it all
At your beck and call
I will give to you
I will give to youYou can take it all
At your beck and call
I will give to youWhen the rain is falling
And the wind is calling
When the rain is falling
And the wind is calling
I give to youWhen the rain is falling
And the wind is calling
When the rain is falling
And the wind is calling
I give to youI give you love
I give you love
I give you loveYou can take it all
At your beck and call
I will give to you

I will give to youYou can take it all
At your beck and call
I will give to you
I will give to youI will give to you
I will give to you
I give, I will give to you
I will give to youI give to you
I give to you
I give to you
I give to youI will give to you
I will give to you
