

I Will Follow You

Bell X1

I will follow you
I will follow you
Put all my money in gold and
Hope that we make it on through I will follow you
I will follow you
Put all my faith in the man
Who says it's the thing to do Though it won't keep you warm
And you can't eat it
See me on my knees like Fagin
As my crown sinks in the shit I will follow you We're taking on water
We're carrying the weak
How dare those Chinese folk
Want to eat more red meat The west is aging
Who will pay for our meds?
I guess when the time comes
We can always just tighten someone else's belt I will follow you There's too many of Us hanging around here
Some buying, some
Selling the fear
Of water-wars and
Empty stores and decide So go back to where you came from
Or to where you did not
As long as it's not here trying
To take us for everything we got And I will follow you
