

Believe in No One

embrace today

look into the face of danger and your integrity will lead you through.

there is nothign that i can do.

what the fuck are you running from?

so face your fears to fight this world alone.

because everyday i fight and fight. i fucking fight.

you owe it to yourself.

believe in noone and fight this world alone and I well Im the one to live with my mistakes.

to fight this world. so fuck this world.

I owe it to myself to be true.

you say that the image changed but it all remains the same.

well i've never changed and all this time i stayed the same and those words.

they never changed. they stayed the same.
