Bad Girl

Don Mclean

'Round and 'round, the years go 'round and 'round
And many a dream is lost in the nasty city soundNow she's down and out, everyone's above her
Tried everything a gal could try
She takes the notion that nobody loves her
And here's the reason whyShe came to the city like a good gal should
Found a little pad in a bad neighborhood
She learned about life and it was quite a shock
But now she knocks 'em down with the best on the block, ah, rightYeah, and it's really a shame too
'Cause she was her daddy's pride and joyDaddy, won't you buy that pretty dolly for me?
It's the only toy I ever wanted
Won't you take me for a walk in the park?
I love the big brass band and the chestnut stand and that sad old man'Round and 'round, the years go 'round and 'round
And many a dream is lost in the nasty city soundNow she's down and out, everyone's above her
Tried everything a gal could try
She takes the notion that nobody loves herOh, but she's wrong, you know
Because I love her
