

Flop Culture

FM Static

When I was young, I used to turn up the bass and Rock out to Billy Jean and Thriller in my basement
When Michael Jackson was a pop sensation
Every second song on the radio station Remember Axl telling us to have patience
And records sold without any affiliation
When William Hung and music still had no relation
Someone tell Janet, bring back the rhythm nation No gloves, no zipper coats
No more Yellow Submarines or Kokomos
If we could ask Luther Vandross
I bet he'd wonder the same Can you tell me what happened to Michael Jackson
And MTV trading music for acting?
Avril Lavigne's on the cover of Maxim
Woah, oh, woah, oh, oh, oh And there's a million other people with a lot on their minds
But for me, I'm not the type to let a good thing die
If we could bring The Beatles back to rock it one more time
We could turn this mess around, one beat at a time When I was young, I used to turn up my headphones
Flip through the pages of the Rolling Stones
I used to turn it up on my drive home
With Mick Jagger singing, 'It's Only Rock n' Roll' No gloves, no zipper coats
Just rock stars eating their fillet mignon
Where did Van Halen put guitar solo's?
I bet they'd wonder the same Can you tell me what happened to Michael Jackson
And MTV trading music for acting?
Avril Lavigne's on the cover of Maxim
Woah, oh, woah, oh, oh, oh Can you tell me what happened to Michael Jackson
And bands reuniting just to get a reaction?
Britney should've never covered satisfaction
No, no, woah, oh, oh, oh And there's a million other people with a lot on their minds
But for me, I'm not the type to let a good thing die
If we could bring The Beatles back to rock it one more time
We could turn this mess around, one beat at a time You're killing me, stop playing with this whole mirage
And replace the music with hydraulic cars
I'd trade my first favorite Ovation guitar
If we could retrace the steps we've made so far Can you tell me what happened to Michael Jackson
And MTV trading music for acting?
Avril Lavigne's on the cover of Maxim
Woah, oh, woah, oh, oh, oh Can you tell me what happened to Michael Jackson
And MTV trading music for acting?
Avril Lavigne's on the cover of Maxim

Woah, oh, woah, oh, oh, oh Can you tell me what happened to Michael Jackson
And bands reuniting just to get a reaction?
Britney should've never covered satisfaction
No, no, woah, oh, oh, oh
No, no, woah, oh, oh, oh
