

No Trouble

Nick Roes

I donâ€™t want to be no trouble; wouldnâ€™t want to take up any of your time.
I donâ€™t want to be no trouble, so donâ€™t nobody pay me any mind.

But I have been working since this morning,
I have to say my throat is kind of dry.
I might accept a little glass of water.
Perrier with lime would do just fine.

But I donâ€™t want to be no trouble; wouldnâ€™t want to take up any of your time.
I donâ€™t want to be no trouble, so donâ€™t nobody pay me any mind.

Thanks for that refreshing glass of water; it tasted great and whet my appetite.
And if it wouldnâ€™t be too much bother, I could stay for dinner here tonight.

But I donâ€™t want to be no trouble; wouldnâ€™t want to take up any of your time.
I donâ€™t want to be no trouble, so donâ€™t nobody pay me any mind.

You know that I donâ€™t get no understanding and Iâ€™ve lived such a sad and lonely life.
If it wouldnâ€™t be an inconvenience, I could sleep this evening with your wife.

But I donâ€™t want to be no trouble; wouldnâ€™t want to take up any of your time.
I donâ€™t want to be no trouble, so donâ€™t nobody pay me any mind.
