No Trouble

Nick Roes

I donâ€TMt want to be no trouble; wouldnâ€TMt want to take up any of your time. I donâ€TMt want to be no trouble, so donâ€TMt nobody pay me any mind.

But I have been working since this morning,
I have to say my throat is kind of dry.
I might accept a little glass of water.
Perrier with lime would do just fine.

But I donâ€TMt want to be no trouble; wouldnâ€TMt want to take up any of your time. I donâ€TMt want to be no trouble, so donâ€TMt nobody pay me any mind.

Thanks for that refreshing glass of water; it tasted great and whet my appetite.

And if it wouldn't be too much bother, I could stay for dinner here tonight.

But I donâ€TMt want to be no trouble; wouldnâ€TMt want to take up any of your time. I donâ€TMt want to be no trouble, so donâ€TMt nobody pay me any mind.

You know that I don't get no understanding and I've lived such a sad and lonely life. If it wouldn't be an inconvenience, I could sleep this evening with your wife.

But I donâ€TMt want to be no trouble; wouldnâ€TMt want to take up any of your time. I donâ€TMt want to be no trouble, so donâ€TMt nobody pay me any mind.
