

Lay Your Heart to Rest

Poisonblack

I've fallen from grace into the kingdom of shadowlands
Into the pleasure's nest

This pale death on my face I've come to love and understand

When I laid my heart to rest And I believe in one thing forevermore, to live is to love the pain
And I feel like I never felt before, the rapture of dying Slow, deep and hard through your frail and virgin mind
Will flow ist lifeless zest

Take it in your heart and you will become my kind

Just lay your heart to rest And you believe in one thing forevermore, to live is to love pain

And you feel like you never felt before, the rapture of dying
And you believe in one thing forevermore, to live is to love pain
And you feel like you never felt before, the rapture of dying
