Look In Your Eyes

Ric Ocasek

There's nothing in here moving
But you know you're not alone
Sad escapes and lullabies go homeThere's someone trying to reach you
Without a cautious doubt
Someone you could never figure outBut you felt it all before
You got that look in your eyes
Tonight, you're full of sorryMoonlight swims in bitter sweet
You never really know
Just who to keepIt's a question of silence
And propositions that you fear
It's a question of silence or tears
But you held them all beforeThere's nothing in here moving
But you know you're not alone
Sad escapes and lullabies go home
But you've been through this before
