Fox In a Box

Casey Fallen

Surrounded with cages, our one engagement, I knew I had to let go.
We stood in a forest, beauty before us, froze to not confuse you more.
Things became clearer, you shed a tear there, made me think you have to know.
Just a reflection, a small inflection of my mind.
You're my infection, feelings collection that won't die.Black and white photo, to capture a moment, it just seemed to stop time.
The day seemed so silent, our spirits entwined there, the sky oh so blue above.
Just a reflection, a small inflection of my mind.
You're my infection, feelings collection that won't die.
Surrounded with cages, our one engagement, I knew I had to let go.We stood in a forest, beauty before us, froze to not confuse you more.
Just a reflection, a small inflection of my mind.
You're my infection, feelings collection that won't die.
Just a reflection, a small inflection of my mind.
You're my infection, feelings collection that won't die.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/