

Words and Phrases

Raised Fist

Words and phrases are lining up in my head
I'm catching my breath before I lay another verse on the table
I can't sleep in this bed
Try to embrace them all
Before I let myself get carried away
I must say, a privilege like this doesn't come every other day
Thank all of you for the stay Mistakes and heartaches, deceiving fakes
Do what it takes to protect ourselves from the demons and the snakes
Don't underestimate yourself
Don't sit on the fucking brake This is just a wake up call
Don't we think we know them all
Perfect is not what I want you to be
It's not me, it's just not me This is just a wake up call
Don't we think we know them all
Perfect is not what I want you to be
It's not me, it's just not me From spring to hard frost, I'm following you Even though the design of our life was broken into A million pieces, let us sit down, use some glue and tell me the fucking truth Mistakes and heartaches, deceiving
fakes
We do what it takes to protect ourselves from the demons and the snakes
Don't underestimate yourself
Don't sit on the fucking brake This is just a wake up call
Don't we think we know them all
Perfect is not what I want you to be
It's not me, it's just not me This is just a wake up call
Don't we think we know them all
Perfect is not what I want you to be
It's not me, it's just not me Words and phrases are lining up in my head
I'm catching my breath before I lay another verse on the table
I can't sleep in this bed This is just a wake up call
Don't we think we know them all
Perfect is not what I want you to be
It's not me, it's just not me This is just a wake up call

fakes

We do what it takes to protect ourselves from the demons and the snakes

Don't underestimate yourself

Don't sit on the fucking brake
