

Always

U2

Here today, gone tomorrow
Crack the bone, get to the marrow
To be a bee and the flower
Before the sweetness turns to sour
What we have were gonna keep always
What we've lost we dont need always
What is it that wont let you sleep always
Be the arrow and the target
Put your head over the parapet
Be uncool, yes, be awkward
Dont look in the obvious place
The soul needs beauty for a soul mate
Get down off your holy cloud always
God will not deal with the proud, always
Well, if you dream then dream out loud, always Eternally yours, always
I want you, I want you, I want you
Here she come
Touching the other side
I wanted to be in love
I wanted to call
Hey, soon, soon
You say, come, you know yourself, always
Go, find yourself in someone else, always
And always wear a safety belt always
Wait for me, Im running late, always
This is the moment that we share for always Turning slowly into a prayer, always
Now and forever, for always
For always, for always, for always
