

Little Joanna

Mcfly

Little Joanna's got big blue eyes
Coconut cream on coffee colored thighs
I could die lying in her arms
Where castles are made of sand
We start to dance
But only the music is bleating
When crickets replace the band
She will always be my sun kissed trampoline
She goes up and down in my heart
Turned into jelly beans
And I'm starting to believe that danger's never near
When Joanna is here
Little Joanna
Little Joanna's like a laser beam sky
Gluteous Maximus like a fire fly
And that's why I'm a kissaphobic
Where cellulite dreams were made like lemonade
But when the shivers are salty and sea
Foams the color of space
She will always be my sunkissed trampoline
She goes up and down in my heart
Turned into jelly beans
And I'm starting to believe that danger's never near
When Joanna is here
God love Joanna
But she doesn't understand much
I love it when our hands touch
Knowing that I'm near
Apple flavored lip gloss
Achilles wears a necklace
And feeling I got reckless
When Joanna is here
Little Joanna's got big blue eyes
I could die lying in her arms
Where castles are made of sand
We start to dance
But only the music is bleating
When the crickets replace the band
She will always be my sunkissed trampoline

She goes up and down in my heart
Turned into jellybeans

And I'm starting to believe that danger's never near
