Waiting For The Dawn

Lunatic Soul

Lately I?ve been so lonely.
Don?t know why, but I think that it?s cause of you.
It?s true.
I chase the time. I remember the old days.
I pretend that I can still be who I am and not be excommunicated.
(By society that is.)
I told you twice, I love you. I still do.
Time don?t lie, he says that Love it ain't easy.
The road is long and arduous.
But oh, I think you know why we came here and what we are fighting for.
Ooh oh oh oh oh oh.
Sometimes I go a wanderin?.
It seems like I always get stuck in my head.
I become the hermit.
Waiting for the dawn to come now.
Waiting for the light to get me high and guide me home.
Ooh oh oh.
Singing Oh, I think you know why we came here and what we are fighting for.
Ooh oh oh oh oh oh.
Lately I?m not so lonely.
I know why. I think that it?s cause of you.
It's true.
Hi Hey There Hello

Oh well Hi, Hey there, Hello.
Have you got some place to go?
I?ve got some time and I would love to take you out.
I?ve got two nickels to my name.
Well hey, my story sounds the same but I?ll find some way to show you what life?s all about.
Oh we could take a walk downtown.
No, lets search for higher ground.
We?ll count the stars, and clouds and howl at the moon.
I hear the rich folks come here too, cause? it?s such a lovely view and when the sun decides to rise it?ll be too soon.
Oooh.
Oh my blood may run red but the thoughts in my head, they are blue. They are purple. They are gold.
And though there may come a day where my hair it turns grey, but my soul, oh, my soul, will never grow old.
See I?m not skin and bones.
I am sunshine and snow on this ever?changing earth that we know.

I?ll melt into a stream. I will glisten and gleam.
I?ll float on but I?ll never grow old.
I?ll float on but I?ll never grow old.
Oooh.
Oh well Hi, Hey there, Hello.
Have you got some place to go?
I?ve got some time and I would love to take you out.
I?ve got two nickels to my name.
Well hey, my story sounds the same but I?ll find some way to show you what life?s all about.
Oooh.
Oh well Hi, Hey there, Hello.
Have you got some place to go?
I?ve got some time and I would love to take you out.
