

There Is Always One More Time

B.B. King

If your whole life somehow wasn't much 'til now
And you've almost lost your will to live
No matter what you've been through
Long as there's breath in you
There is always one more time
And if your dreams go bad
Everyone that you've had
That don't mean that some dreams can't come true
'Cause it's funny about dreams
As strange as it seems
There is always one more time
Oh, turning corners is only a state of mind
Keepin' your eyes closed is worse than being blind
If there's a heart out there lookin' for someone to share
I don't care if it's been turned down time and time again
And if we meet one day, please don't walk away
'Cause there's always one more time, oh
There is always one more time
