

One Heart

Alana Dante

Shipwrecked on the rocks of pride, shipwrecked on the rocks of fear

My heart is torn apart when you're not here

Life goes by like a dream when we die, oh will it seem

That our hearts weren't always on the one?

One heart, one mind, one soul

One heart, one mind, one soul

One heart after you

There are hearts undecided, some are hard and subdivided

A hard heart couldn't break the chains on me

Let me plow up the ground, make it so I can see

I want to grow, I want your love in me

One heart, one mind, one soul

One heart, one mind, one soul

One heart after You

One heart, one mind, one soul

One heart after you

One heart, one mind, one soul

Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

Well I was shipwrecked on the rocks, the rock of pride

Slowly and surely, in came the tide

Life goes by like a dream, when we die, oh will it seem

That our life was wasted by the things we tasted?

Wake up, wally, it's time to face it

Lifting Jesus up makes me feel up

One heart, one mind, one soul

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>