

After You've Gone

Frank Sinatra

You're just a mile away
One thousand five tiny steps from here
But if I brought you near
Would you believe when I say It seems like yesterday
That I could reach out and touch your face
But as I fall from grace
Into whose arms can I lay It's always much too late
We get the signs
We can't communicate
Or turn back time So what will be now, do you feel somehow
Not so together and not quite as strong
Now I believe
Alone doesn't have to mean lonely, after you've gone I need a healing wind
To cool the flame burning in my sight
It must accelerate
For two wrongs they don't make a right And all these solitaires
Lone victories
Wars fought in isolation
With none to please So what will be now, do you feel somehow
Not so together and not quite as strong
Now I believe
Alone doesn't have to mean lonely, after you've gone The future's still uncertain
The past is done So what will be now, do you feel somehow
Not so together and not quite as strong
Now I believe
Alone doesn't have to mean lonely, after you've gone Now I believe
Alone doesn't have to mean lonely, after you've gone Now I believe
Alone doesn't have to mean lonely, after you've gone
