The Crying Moon

Tarja

Take all your black arrows they can not harm no more
now when this is locked up in your dungeon
they can not harm no moreThe universe is watching her an evil curse lies on her heart a chariot, pulled by groans trying to tear her hope apart.
Confide in sinChorus
I can hear the moon is crying as it spells out your name (spells out your name) all the stars are up there sighing saying you come back againBehind the darkest lullaby they kept their wishes hidden well the moon untied a secret bond where they could be one again Confide in sinChorusLove, stronger than hatred, stronger than anyone her heart is gone
they can not harm no moreTake all your black arrows
