I Remember Love

Air Supply

I've been staring at the floor
And I've been holding back the tears
And I'd been talking to the walls
If the walls had earsAnd now it seems
That every time
I look into your eyes
There is only so far I can seeTake me back there, where only we can go
When you touch me the memories unfold
And I remember love, I remember love
Do you remember love?I've been looking to the future
And I've been dreaming of our past
But now I'm counting on this moment
'Cause it may be the lastAnd days go by
And still I try
To reach into your soul
But there is only so far I can goSo, take me back there, where only we can go
When you touch me the memories unfold
And I remember love, I remember love
Do you remember love?Remember the times when our world was alive
And all of the answers were clear
Remember the times when our souls would ignite
And passion explodes into tearsAnd I remember love, I remember love
Do you remember love?
