

I Wait

The Garnet Hearts

things in this world
seem so far away
once again i wonder
where i am somewhere someone's speaking
but i cannot hear and once again it all falls apart
but still i wait here trying to find some remnant of myself my days a dull aching please tell me what i'm waiting for all my days are fading into one all my days are fading all my days are fading into one all my days are fading away things in this world have never seem so gray
once again i wonder
what i've become somewhere something's breaking this world's so dead
when i cannot feel what's in my head but still i wait here trying to find some remnant of myself my days a dull aching
i'm waiting for
