More Love

Nancy Wilson

Nancy Wilson, If I Had My WayI should have listened more and listened well
I should have been your shelter in the rain
I should have touched you more
And held you closer
Till I felt it melt your quiet painShould have had more time to spare for you
Should have been there for you
To care for you
With more love...more loveI should have given you the gifts I threw
To total strangers passing through my nights
I could have huddled near your gentle flame
Been warmer there than in there glaring lightsShould have had time to spare for you
Should have been there for you
To care for you
With more move...more love...more loveWhat would it have taken
If only I had taken
My eyes
Off of me
For a whileI have seen the hurting hiding
Deep behind the curtain of your smile
Your smileI swore I didn't know, which goes to show
How long it took for me to understand
But if I say enough
And try enough
And pray enough
And cry enough
I can....I still canHave more time to spare for you
Always be there for you
To care for you
With more love...move love...moooorrreee looooooove.
