Working Against Me

Something for Kate

i took my time and whatever else i could find i didn't care at the time i've got it all planned i'm gonna mark out my land i've drawn some lines in the sand i thought time would change things i thought that things would change i thought you thought i think you thought but everything is the same i try to stay between your world and mine but that's a crooked line and i don't wanna look at you and i don't wanna have to think i'll blame the captain and the crew cos they said it wouldn't sink they said it wouldn't sink my legs won't hold me up your heart is pounding in my head my mouth seems to be working against me i don't wanna look at you
and i don't wanna have to think
my mouth seems to be
my legs won't hold me up
my mouth seems to be working against me
