Severed Dreams

Abominant

I lie empty, no thoughts in my head. Just knowing what tonight will bring. The somber shade of star lite sky. It begins when I close my eyes. Awaken from sleeping visions. Waken no hours hope forlorn. All I can do, all I can scream. Try to awaken from this dream. Dreams of the past possessed my soul. Haunting nightmares takes control. The screams and cried that burns within. Laughing sirens on the wind. Reality obscure by dreams. I feel death close by. Will I die before I awake. Severe me from my dreams. I lie in wait for daylight. Trapped by the silence that surrounds me. Listen to as the night creatures call. Weakness has profound me. Its all I can do, cant stay awaked stimulate, lie down take my fate. Disturbed, darkness descents around me. Close my eyes let it begin again. Dreams of the past possessed my soul. Haunting visions take control. Who will hear theses screams within. Like whispering sirens on the wind. Reality obscure my dreams. I feel death close by. Will I die before I awake. Severe me from my dreams.
