

Light

Darren Hayes

Light, it flickers
Your light, traveling down so deep, illumination I have been cold
I have been blind
You have come to change my mind
I can put my faith in you Light, it blisters
Your light, coming down so bright, transformation
Turn it up, give me some room to grow
Turn it up, give me that sense to know I have been cold
I have been blind
You were sent to change my mind
I can put my faith in you For something ordinary, it's so extraordinary
I trust, I put my faith in you
In you, in you, in you
Ooh, in you, in you Light, it glitters
Your light, when I stand this close, it's almost blinding
Turn it up, give me some room to grow
Turn it up, give me the sense to know I have been changed, I have become
I have flamed, I am the sun
I'm the reflection of you For something ordinary, it's so extraordinary
I trust, I put my faith in you
In you, in you, in you
Ooh, in you, in you, in you, you For something ordinary, it's so extraordinary
I trust, I put my faith in you
In you, in you, in you
In you, you, you It flickers, it blisters, it glitters
Ooh, in you, in you
In you, you, you
You are
