

The Last Song I'm Wasting on You

Evanescence

Sparkling grey,
There my own veins. Any more than a whisper,
Any sudden movement of my heart.
And I know, I know,
I'll have to watch them pass away,
Just get through this day. Give up your way,
You could be anything,
Give up my way,
And lose myself?
Not today, that's too much guilt to pay. Sickened in the sun,
You dare tell me you love me,
But you held me down and screamed you wanted me to die,
Honey, you know, you know, I'd never hurt you that way;
You're just so pretty in your pain. Give up my way,
And I could be anything,
I'll make my own way,
Without your senseless hate, hate, hate, hate. So run, run, run,
And hate me, if it feels good,
I can't hear your screams anymore. You lied to me,
But I'm older now,
And I'm not buyin' baby. Demanding my response,
Don't bother breaking the door down,
I've found my way out,
And you'll never hurt me again.

Songwriters

AMY LEE Published by

Lyrics © RESERVOIR MEDIA MANAGEMENT INC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.

Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>