Wayward Angel

Kasey Chambers

Well I am a wayward angel
I don't suffer, I don't cry
Late in the night you're sleepin'
Come to hover by your side
So close your weary weathered eyes
These tears are just a faint disguise
'Cause I am a wayward angel
I don't suffer, I don't cry
Cold in the heart of winter
Make you shiver, make you blue
I'll stay close by your window
Give you blankets to hold on to
So sleep my baby for a while
You'll wake with the light of a mothers smile
I am a wayward angel
I don't suffer, I don't cry
I am a wayward angel
I feel no sorrow
I'll always carry you home
I'll bring salvation
Before tomorrow

I'll be wherever you go
Break like a first time heartache
Leaves you weaker, leaves you tears
Hold my hand much tighter
I will walk you, through these years
So close your weary weathered eyes
You'll wake with the light of a mothers smile
'Cause I am a wayward angel
I don't suffer, I don't cry
I am a wayward angel
I feel no sorrow
I'll always carry you home
I'll bring salvation
Before tomorrow
I'll be wherever you go
Oww
Ay ya ya ya

Ay ya ya ya
Ay ya ya ya
