Sinew

hunter of unborn stars apart from the light that we all are covered in darkened clouds of self concern what a silly boy I've been engaged in a war noone can win now that the dust has settled I regret everything and

lighten up
a secret I forgot remind me of my own true love

take me in
and never let me go caress me with your blissful wonder taster of bone and skin enemy's enemy within unable to embrace failure of mine what a handsome boy you are a miracle shines through your torn heart I ask you to start again please forgive me everything

sated but never quite satisfied oceans are dying of thirst this iceland is melting its tears reunite with its source
