I Believe

HammerFall

Is it to late to go in peace
I wonder how, how these things did start anyway
Maybe to late to find a way
When the trail of grief is marked with memoriesNow when you're gone the warmth of the sun seems so far awayI believe in everything I see
Every second is a miracle for me
I believe after sunshine comes the rain
When it's pouring down
The only thing I feel is painI walk alone through shapeless dreams
My only home is the wasteland that I cross
I close the door and turn the key
Those days of joy are barely memoriesNow when you're gone your star will shine on, won't you shine for me?I believe in everything I see
Every second is a miracle for me
I believe after sunshine comes the rain
When it's pouring down
The only thing I feel is painI believe in everything I see
Every second is a miracle for me
I believe after sunshine comes the rain
When it's pouring down
The only thing I feel is pain
