Ready or Not

Paxton Ingram

To many tears
To many fears
Countless walls you've broken down beneath the fort
And now your here in twenty years
Nuckles pressing gently on my door

And I don't want to taste if you don't want to stay
If your lonely for just one night
Take your time if you want to
But don't expect me to wait
You must think we're still young and stupid babe
But it's just not the case
Are you ready or not
Are you ready or not

One step away from one mistake
And all it takes is a twist to my own head
One hundred thoughts one thousand times
I let the scene play out inside my head

I don't want to taste if you don't want to stay
If your lonely for just one night
Take your time if you want to
Don't expect me to wait
You must think we're still young and stupid babe
But it's just not the case

Take your time if you want to
don't expect me to wait
You must think we're still young and stupid babe
But it's just not the case
Are you ready or not
Are you ready or not

To many tears
To many fears
Just standing there with backs against the door
