

Looks Like They Were Right

Lit

Turns out I'm exactly how your friends thought
I would turn out, just another burn out
And it looks like we were nothing more
Then just a real good look-alike
And I hate to say it, but it looks like
They were right again tonight
And I'm probably gonna start another fight
And I'll hit the wall, forget it all
It looks like they were right
Can't stop even though I know it's just a fucked up
Way to pay and I'm sure you hate me
Well, stay tight 'cause you haven't seen the rest
The worst part of me yet
And I hate to say it, but it looks like
There right again tonight
And I'm probably gonna start another fight
And we'll get it on, do it wrong all along
It looks they were right
Everybody's got a reason and they're just not telling
Everybody's got the answer but they're just not selling
We start a fire just to light it up, realize we burned it down
To the ground
Turns out I'm exactly how your friends thought
I would turn out, just another burn out
Well, it looks like they were right again tonight
And I'm probably gonna start another fight
And I'll hit the wall, take a fall, forget it all
It looks like they were right again tonight
And I'm probably gonna start another fight
And I'll hit the wall, take the fall, forget it all
It looks like they were right again tonight
And I'm probably gonna start another fight
I won't give it up, I'll live it up, keep it up until I get it right
It looks like they were right
