Liquid Coffin

Amelia Presley

Verse 1:
When the dog bites, don't stick your hand in the beast's mouth again
I'm smart enough to know we could never be friends
Our love was too deep; Now, it's deep down the drain
So far over me, you say we'll never be the same

Chorus:
So, I'm pourin' myself into a liquid coffin
Times with you are long forgotten
You don't care about me
You just don't care much, do ya?
Spoke your name just the other day
The words on my lips didn't feel the same
You're no more than a memory

Verse 2:
It hurts every time I call you
With my liquid confidence
You just hang up 'cause you ain't got the time
You say you weren't ready to be married
You don't say much about our lost child
Twenty years from now, I'll drive down I-65
And remember that ride with you on the back of your bike
It was then I knew I loved you for the very first time
Now, I'm fightin' back the pain that stings fresh scars
'Cause it hurts too bad to cry

REPEAT CHORUS

Bridge:
There was a time when I could not forget you
Now, I can barely see your face
Had I known I was wastin' my time, I'd a done this long ago
Then I would've never known the taste

REPEAT CHORUS

Memory.....
Memory.....

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/