

'Til It Kills

Tilt

Go on further and we will lay to waste, precious blooms in our haste, we = ravage all of them, desperate for the medicine, take a salve that used = to soothe, make sure it can knock you cold, take a gift from nature's = womb, reduce it to it's harshest form. I've learned to make it stronger, = to get my fill, concentrate it 'til it kills, how can I make it lethal? = That's all I can feel, distill it 'til it kills. Embodiment of beauty, = now we can engineer, we can extract from the core the calibrated traits, = we skillfully can integrate, highest grade that can be had, most potent = substance known to man, if there's a price down on the line, push it out = of your cluttered mind. The absolute need quickens in my abdomen, it = kicks inside, like an undead child, urging me onward with reflexive = violence, excruciating beat, to keep me on my quest.
